Heroines of Abstract Expressionism
Nassau County Museum of Art

Great art by women fill the Museum which you will be able to view in this 90 minute online professional development that will give educators an opportunity to explore how the Museum's collection can serve as a resource for teaching. The Museum's current exhibit includes masterworks by Mary Cassatt, Georgia O'Keeffe and Camille Claudel. This webinar is art centered; inquiry based and designed to engage viewers in participatory experiences and to address NYS Learning and Common Core Standards.

This session also includes a hands-on project using simple materials inspired by artist Dorothy Dehner.

"You can't sit around and wait for somebody to say who you are. You need to write it and paint it and do it"
