LIGHT REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED

- An interdisciplinary exploration of the Hofstra University Museum of Art's current exhibition, Environmental Impact. Through a variety of approaches the 9 artists illustrate the consequences of human interaction with nature and bring awareness to a range of environmental concerns.
- Elizabeth Dysart, Director of Education and Engagement, will lead us through activities tailored for various grades and abilities focusing on the themes of the exhibition such as pollution and overdevelopment.
- Targeted at strengthening: creative and critical thinking, communication, collaboration, evidence-based writing, vocabulary development and analysis of visual materials.
- Come engage in meaningful conversation, share perspectives, and let the art inspire us!
